Holiday

Fuerteventura is said to have the best beaches in the Canaries, its ancient volcanic activity responsible for a kaleidoscope of coloured sands and rocks. The island is a designated Biosphere Reserve and is a terrific choice for summer or winter escapes (check our website). Corralejo is a former fishing village that holds on to the best of the old despite expanding into a great resort.

Hotel

The H10 Ocean Dunas is a boutique-style, adults-only hotel in the centre of Corralejo just 50 metres from the beach. Recently renovated, the décor gives a contemporary twist to Spanish style, with 79 bright rooms, a bar and restaurant opening onto the lovely pool terrace and complimentary WiFi throughout.

Your room

Our smart Superior double rooms are equipped with everything you need from a kettle and Nespresso machine, to robe and slippers plus (extra charge) safe and minibar. There's a furnished balcony or terrace too.

Where & what

The hotel is a calm retreat, yet the resort's bars and restaurants are close by if you want to explore them, and the beach a few yards away. The reliable breeze makes Corralejo popular for wind- and kite-surfing. Stretching south for 10kms are the dunes, a protected reserve. Inland, discover the island's desert-like plains, mountain peaks and palm-fringed oases, or choose a boat trip to see the Isla de Lobos.

Room upgrades

Upgrade to Junior Suite room from £28 a night.
