

Cruises

Cruising is being re-invented for 2021 with new regimes for a post-pandemic world. It's a holiday that's easy to budget for because so much is included in the price, and you visit a different place every day without packing and unpacking each time.

Cruises for Single Travellers

The cruise industry now recognises what a great 'fit' there is between single travellers and ocean cruising. The high crew : passenger ratio enables cruise lines to provide dedicated staff to look after single travellers. Dining options are sociable, shore excursions are well-organised and there are always like-minded holidaymakers around. As new ships are built, more cabins are designed for single occupancy, while some older ships offer reduced single supplements on selected cruises.

This is all good news, but choosing the right ship can be tricky, as can sorting out flights and transfers. This is where Friendship Travel comes in: let us do the research for you, let us recommend the most singles-friendly cruise lines and tailor-make travel arrangements to suit you.

We are huge fans of Norwegian Cruise Lines' singles-friendly ships EPIC and Breakaway, both of which offer over 100 specially-designed single cabins and Singles Lounges which make it easy for single travellers to meet and mingle. The care and attention given to single guests is unsurpassed at this budget level, and there is a variety of itineraries from sunshine cruises around the Med to transatlantic and Caribbean cruises out of New York and Miami.

We also warmly recommend two ultra-luxurious cruise lines for their superb service to single travellers: Silversea and Star Clippers, which offer 5-star cruising on smaller ships. Again, see our website.

Single travellers on all these ocean cruises are supported by the ship's own staff in every case, rather than by Friendship Travel Hosts.

NCL EPIC & Breakaway

NCL's is the cruise industry's trailblazer for single travellers, with both ships offering Studios designed specifically for solo occupancy, rather than allocating double cabins for sole use. They really are something special.

Both ships offer a modern Freestyle cruising concept, with flexibility in terms of dining, activities and shore excursions. They have fantastic facilities and a wonderful range of bars and dining options.

Cruise fares include full board: all meals. You can upgrade for just £99 per week to add on TWO of these options, from: Premium Beverage, Speciality Dining, Shore Excursions, WiFi or Friends & Family at Sea.

Your cabin

It goes without saying that the staterooms are superbly appointed, but for full details, visit our website.

On board

When you first board, there's a special singles introduction evening, so you can meet your NCL hosts and fellow travellers. The singles' lounge is the perfect place to meet to compare notes on the day's activities and to relax with a drink before going into dinner with new friends. Alternatively, you can simply ask the head waiter to seat you with other single travellers in your chosen restaurant. NCL's approach to single passengers is the most exciting development in cruising for a decade. Friendship Travel is proud to have been chosen to offer year-round ATOL-bonded fly-cruises on NCL ships, with packages from just £1195.

Prices in £ sterling start from £1195

It is impossible for us to brochure prices for NCL's cruises on the EPIC and Breakaway, because of the various itineraries and opportunities for cruise-and-stay packages (eg Barcelona stays linked to EPIC cruises). Please call our office to discuss your NCL cruise dreams!
